dust or dirty joinery in dreams)

Prestige Home Groomers will help you present the dream as it should be... flawless!

Your reputation hangs on first impressions...

So when your new homes are viewed for the very first time, they need to be immaculate.

Unightly dust, wood shavings or dirty windows can make even the most exquisite design look shabby.

Not only that, you don't want the new owners uncovering imperfections days, or even weeks, later.

We make sure that doesn't happen.

As experienced home groomers we pay attention to the smallest of details.

For instance, when it comes to windows we don't just clean the glass – we clean the joinery and the tracks as well.

We go beneath the surface - into the corners of cupboards and underneath shelves.

And because we go over every single millimetre of the property we can alert you to any maintenance or repair issues, no matter how small. If there is a screw cover missing inside the pantry we will let you know about it!

In short, we don't just clean new homes we “present” them.

By the time we leave, not only is everything gleaming, but all the cupboards are neatly closed and the taps lined up.

So when the new owner steps through the front door it is everything they dreamed it would be.

What you can expect

Communication and flexibility

We know that building projects don't always run to schedule. So we keep in regular contact to see how things are progressing and are happy to reschedule if necessary.

Consistent pricing

We charge per square metre (apart from exceptional circumstances) so you know what to expect right from the beginning. No time-consuming quotes. No surprises. You can factor it into your budget as soon as the plans are drawn up.

Maintenance and repairs

Because our service is so detailed we see everything. That means we pick up on any repair and maintenance issues that may have been overlooked and bring them to your attention straight away. That's why we recommend home grooming as close as possible to handover to your client while still allowing time to rectify any faults. We are also happy to come back for a final clean after any maintenance work is carried out.

Ongoing service

We appreciate how important it is for you to have your show homes looking at their very best at all times, they are the advertisement for the quality work which you offer to your clients. We are able to provide a regular cleaning service for your show homes to keep them looking pristine and well presented. We can also keep your office looking spick and span should you require us to do so!

Referrals

If you have a request that is outside our scope we can point you in the right direction. Because we know the industry inside out, if we can't help you we know someone who can.

Who we are

Managing Directors Paul and Kim Buttery have been grooming new homes since 2000. Previously involved in the building industry, they established a home grooming business after experiencing first-hand the need for a specialised service.

"I was part-owner of a new house building company and I always found it difficult to get good, consistent cleaners to prepare the homes for their new owners," says Kim.

"Because we have been on both sides of the fence we know what needs to be done. It is our specialty – we only groom new homes," she adds.

Years of experience have resulted in extensive product knowledge. Having tested different cleaning products and equipment, Paul and Kim know what works and what doesn't.

"We know that some products work better than others and have hand-picked our range on the back of this experience," says Paul.

"We also know that different surfaces require different attention and our cleaning products are selected accordingly. It's definitely not a case of one product fits all."

The same goes for their team of home grooming specialists.

"We personally select and train our team, who we know to be hard working, fastidious and dedicated," adds Paul.

"We have a rigorous training programme and an extensive checklist that must be adhered to."

Your personality Our expertise

I first met Kim and Paul of Prestige Home Groomers in 2002. As a result of our company expanding we were endeavouring to source new cleaning professionals, they were contracted to us and have done all of our residential homes and apartments, plus our commercial complimentary cleans at the end of construction.

We have been extremely pleased with their professionalism and have found them to be reliable, energetic, they have always gone the extra mile when asked. They have sometimes been requested at very short notice to go to some homes and not only managed to fit them in to their already busy schedule but have always done this cheerfully and willingly.

I can highly recommend Prestige Home Groomers and wish them every success.
